HSA investments 101

Planning for healthcare costs in retirement

The average couple can expect to spend $300,000 on out-of-pocket healthcare costs during retirement, including Medicare premiums, gap coverage, expensive medications, and more¹. Investing your HSA can help you build a nest egg and ensure you have enough money set aside for the future.²

Once your HSA reaches the required minimum balance, you can begin to build wealth and save for retirement by investing your funds, just like a 401(k). But unlike a 401(k), you never pay taxes on earnings or withdrawals for qualified medical expenses! HSA contributions offer greater tax savings than 401(k) contributions and give you the potential to save at a faster rate.

Key things to know before getting started

- Minimum balance: You will need to accumulate a minimum balance in your HSA cash account before you are able to invest. Any funds above this threshold can be invested. To see your minimum balance requirement, log in to your HSA portal and click on the 'investments' button within your HSA account summary.
- Transferring funds: If you have unexpected medical costs, you can transfer your investment funds back into your HSA at any time. There are no fees or penalties for withdrawing money from your investments to pay for qualified medical expenses.
- Industry-leading solution: Enjoy an innovative and modern investment experience that provides access to different investment account types, real-time investment account opening and trading, and modern investment tools.
- Online account management: You can manage your investments online via your mobile phone, desktop computer, or tablet – from the same place you manage your HSA!
- Flexible options: Choose from a variety of investment options that fit your needs, whether you're a new or seasoned investor: Managed, Self-Directed or Brokerage.

For more information about the three investment methods, see the ‘how to’ sections below.

How to: Managed account type

What is a Managed account?

The Managed investment path is designed for novice investors who prefer to have our advisor tool automatically select and rebalance investments on an ongoing basis in accordance with their age and/or risk profile. This account type delivers a “do-it-for-me” approach to investing.

Enrolling in a Managed account

If you choose the Managed account type during the investment account opening process, the on-screen prompts guide you through the following steps to complete your enrollment:

1. Select an amount to invest. The amount you choose to invest is transferred from your HSA cash account into your HSA investment account after you complete your enrollment.
2. Fill out a risk questionnaire. Your answers to the risk questionnaire help the advisor tool determine your risk tolerance and allow it to craft a portfolio for you. You can review the suggested portfolio and either accept as-is or change your answers to the risk questionnaire to receive a different suggested portfolio.

3. Review the order and open your account. After clicking the 'invest' button, your investment account is opened and the investment amount you choose is allocated accordingly among the funds in the suggested portfolio.

The sequence of screenshots illustrates the investment process:

- Account Funding: Shows the current HSA balance of $8,238.48 and the amount available to invest of $7,738.48. The user selects the investment amount, which is confirmed as $7,738.48.
- Risk Questionnaire: Asks the user to define their investment risk based on their age and how they feel about the market in the short term. Options include Moderately Conservative, Moderate, Moderately Aggressive, Aggressive, Moderately Pessimistic, Neutral, Moderately Optimistic, and Very Optimistic.
- Portfolio Allocation: Displays a Recommended Portfolio with a Total Amount Investing of $7,738.48. It shows a pie chart and a table of fund allocations.
- Final Step: Shows the 'INVEST' button, indicating the investment is complete.

Managing a Managed account

The Managed account type eliminates most of the work associated with investing your funds. After you accept the suggested portfolio, the advisor tool regularly rebalances your portfolio for you.

Updating your risk questionnaire

To change your answers to the risk questionnaire, click on 'account settings' and select 'update portfolio selection' at any time during market hours. Review your current answers and adjust your selections as needed. The advisor tool then suggests a portfolio that better suits your needs. When ready to accept the suggested portfolio, simply click 'invest'. Buys and sells are executed accordingly to transition from your old portfolio to your new one.

Transferring funds in a Managed account

Follow these steps to move money between your HSA cash account and your HSA investment account.

1. Click 'move money'.
2. Enter the amount you'd like to transfer.

How to: Brokerage account type

What is a Brokerage account?

The Brokerage investment path was designed for adept investors who desire to perform advanced research and trading across hundreds of individual stocks and exchange-traded funds (ETFs). This account type offers a hands-on, DIY approach to investing.

Enrolling in a Brokerage account

If you choose the Brokerage account type during the investment account opening process, the on-screen prompts guide you through the following steps to complete your enrollment:

1. After choosing the Brokerage account type, you are directed to the Brokerage account confirmation screen.
2. Click 'submit' to automatically open your investment account.
3. Search for investment instruments within the lists of frequently traded stocks and frequently traded ETFs, or by using the search feature.
4. When you select a stock or ETF, you can see additional information about the instrument, including performance details.
5. Enter the amount in dollars you want to buy – you can buy either full or fractional shares.
*Note: The dollars for buys and sells move back and forth from your HSA cash account accordingly without a sweep account; you don't need to 'fund' your Brokerage account before buying instruments.

6. Review the order and choose to 'edit' or 'buy'.

The screenshot displays a brokerage account dashboard. At the top, it says "Congratulations... let's get started investing!" and shows the available investment amount as "$6,000.00". Below this, there are sections for "Frequently Traded Stocks" and "Frequently Traded ETFs". A callout box (3) highlights the "Frequently Traded Stocks" section. To the right, a detailed view of Apple, Inc. (AAPL) is shown, including its price ($146.67), a line chart of its performance, and a table of key metrics. A callout box (4) highlights the "About" section of the AAPL page. On the right side of the AAPL page, there is a "Buy AAPL" form with fields for "Invest in" (Dollars), "Amount" ($ 0.00), and "Est. Quantity" (0 shares). A callout box (5) highlights the "Amount" field, and another callout box (6) highlights the "REVIEW ORDER" button.

Managing a Brokerage account

How you choose to build and maintain your portfolio is solely up to you. You can enter the investment experience at any time, and you can buy or sell during market hours.

Follow these steps to sell part, or all, of your holdings in an investment instrument:

1. Select the instrument from your dashboard or use the search tool to find it.
2. Click the arrow to select 'buy' or 'sell'.
3. Enter in dollars how much you want to sell – you can sell either full or fractional shares.
4. Review the order and choose 'edit' or 'sell'.

Transferring funds in a Brokerage account

Unlike Managed and Self-Directed, there is no true 'transfer' of funds in a Brokerage account. If you want to move money from your HSA cash account to your HSA investment account, you must buy investment instrument(s). If you want to move money from your HSA investment account to your HSA cash account, you must sell investment instrument(s).

The money movement for buys happens in real time. The money from sells settles into your HSA cash account within two business days.
